SUSPICION AND FEAR STAND IN PATH OF PEACE

(via Demons Can Be Exorcised Only by Some Form of Association of Nations, Declares Lord Robert Cecil)

DO NOT NEED FORCE

States Would Be Better Off if They Would Abandon Belief That Only Method of Settlement Is Arms

New York, April 2.—Fear and suspicion, twin demons which have possessed the world and which can be exorcised only by some form of association of nations, are the forces that stand between France and Germany in the settlement of the reparations question, as they stand in the way of settlement of other international questions, Lord Robert Cecil, noted British exponent of the League of Nations, declared in an address before the Foreign Policy Association tonight.

Addressing his first American audience, Lord Robert, who has come to the United States for a series of speeches on behalf of the league, declared it was essential for world safety to "turn the minds of nations from force as the only remedy."

"Take the question of reparations," he said. "What is it that makes that question so intractable? It is that, though the French are anxious for the Germans to pay, they are also anxious lest if they are allowed to get on their feet sufficiently to pay they will become a danger to the security of France."

"Do not think I am attacking the French on that account. No one who has read the history of these countries even cursorily will say the fears of France are unreasonable—or, for the matter of that, the fears of Germany, either."

"There is a long history behind the reparations question of the present day. And if we are to bring some remedy to this state of things, the first thing we have to do is to lay international fear and suspicion to rest."

Lord Robert said that the nations of the world have got to turn their minds from force as the only remedy. "We have got to teach them that reparations, public opinion, or of far greater potency than mere physical compulsion."

Next War More Terrible.

Warning that the next war, if one came, would be far more terrible because of the new scientific discoveries, that the world war, and that it was not inconceivable that America might be laid waste and her population destroyed by airmen flying from over sea, Lord Robert declared that a crisis in world history had been reached—that nations must "learn of peace."

The recent Washington agreement for the limitation of naval armament was but a "first step" in the only direction that can save present civilization from going the way of the civilizations of Egypt, Greece and Rome, he said, adding that the three most terrible arms of warfare—aircraft, submarines and land forces—had not been at all affected by the Washington treaties.

It was true, he conceded, that the Washington conference had laid down certain rules for submarine use, but there was little likelihood that these would be respected if nations ever again found themselves fighting for their lives.

"Certainly the experience of the last war is against such hope," he said. "Sorely one rule for the limitation of warfare was observed, and though we may think that our men were the worst, yet in all lands and frontiers, I doubt if there is any single nation which has a clean sheet in the matter."

MOVIE MUSICIANS OUT ON STRIKE

Walk Out of Capital and Criticism in Middle of Motion; No General Walkout

New York, April 2.—F. Paul Vaccarello, business agent of the Musicians Mutual Protective union, whose members in the Capitol and Criticism motion picture theatres went on strike today, directed the men to return to their orchestra pits tonight. The management of the theatres, however, refused to permit the players to return.

A general strike among all theatre musicians in the city was averted, however, Mr. Vaccarello said after a conference with representatives of the Vaudeville and Burlesque Managers' association and a representative of the American Federation of Musicians. A long feud between this latter organization and Mr. Vaccarello's union was responsible for the walkout this afternoon, which came as the two theatres were packed with matinee audiences.

Eighty-five members of the Capitol theatre, symphony led the walkout, hushing their music in the midst of a matinee at the largest movie house in the world. A smaller orchestra at the Criticism packed instruments and disappeared almost at the same moment. In each case the strikers were members of the American Federation of Musicians, an affiliation of the American Federation of Labor. They also maintained memberships in the Musicians' Mutual Protective union, an organization outlawed two years ago, and which pays certain insurance benefits and maintains a club house.

IRON WORKERS KILL CONRADE

Argument in Lodge Room Results in Fatal Shooting Affray; Another Critically Hurt

Cleveland, April 2.—One man was shot and instantly killed and another probably fatally wounded in a fight which broke out during a meeting of bridge and structural iron workers local union No. 17 here tonight.

Riot calls brought all available police to the meeting hall. The wounded man was taken to a hospital where his condition was said to be critical.

A third man was less seriously hurt. The dead man is believed to be Burke Bowen of Lakewood. He was shot three times through the head and once through the breast.

John O'Brien, secretary of the union, was wounded three times. Upon his arrival at the hospital, physicians summoned his family, saying that death was only a matter of minutes.

Approximately 150 men were in the hall when the fight started, according to information gathered by the police, but when the shooting began they rushed out into the street, leaving only a comparatively few men in the hall when they arrived, and these professed to know nothing about it.

The fight started during an argument over the right to take away the membership of a member who had become an employer.

UNMASKED MEN TAKE MAN FROM AUTO AND BEAT HIM

Taylor, Texas, April 2.—R. W. Burleson, a salesman, reported to police today that he had been removed from an automobile by six or seven unmasked men near here last night, and severely beaten with a light and heavy iron. He said he was applied to his head and arms. He said he did not recognize any of the men. Burleson, whose home is said to be in Waco, reported to the police that two weeks ago he had received a warning to leave Taylor, purporting to have come from the Ku Klux Klan.

Burleson told officers he was driving with a friend, the latter's wife and a young lady when the attack occurred. After the beating he was brought to Taylor and turned loose on the lawn of his city hall.

SMITH DISAPPROVES SPEEDING

Albany, April 2.—Governor Smith returned to the assembly tonight, without his approval, the Staley bill, designed to raise to 20 miles an hour the speed limit which second class cities, towns and villages could set by statute. Under the present provisions of the highway law the speed limit can be set as low as 15 miles per hour.

In his message to the lower house advising his members of his action, the governor said he was opposed to permitting the increase in the rate of travel of motor vehicles until such time as such action is taken toward the regulation of the operation of motor vehicles.

DOT KEENAN PARTNER OF N. Y. BROKER

Model Senior Member of Firm Known as 'King and Scott'; Guimaraes Interested in Business, Also

IMPORTANT CLUE

Police Place Considerable Weight on Value of New Angle into Life of Chloforman 'Butterfly'

New York, April 2.—A "Broadway butterfly" and an artist model, Dorothy King Keenan, had another role, that as a senior member of the stock brokerage firm of "King and Scott," it was learned tonight. The revelation was made by Assistant District Attorney Thomas Geraty, who investigated the firm last summer, to Assistant District Attorney Pecora.

Albert E. Guimaraes, "the man in the fur coat," admirer of the model and upon whom he was said to have showered many gifts also was interested in the brokerage house, Geraty said.

Miss Keenan, who was known on Broadway as Dorothy "King," backed the company with large sums of money, Geraty said he was told by Guimaraes. "King and Scott," he said, was affiliated with another brokerage house, "Stoddard and Sandborn," in which Guimaraes also held an interest and from which he was reported to have made from $75,000 to $100,000 a year.

The extent of Miss Keenan's holdings were not revealed, however, and authorities immediately began an investigation into her connection with the firm. It was indicated that Guimaraes acted for the slain model in the management of the concern, despite the fact she had advanced, according to information, the greater portion of the firm's capital.

Discovery of Importance.

Police, when informed of the discovery, attached considerable importance to it and declared that a new angle into the case was a mysterious murder might develop from an investigation into her activities as a stock broker.

Four other trails leading to the slayer of the model were being followed by detectives.

One trail, leading to the discovery of the conspirator who planned a $100,000 blackmail plot against Mitchell, and who is believed to have obtained the model's missing Palm Beach letter, written by the Philadelphia a few days before her death, was admittedly nearing its end. Detectives, it was learned, had ascertained the dwelling place of the man and momentarily were expecting to apprehend him.

Another trail led to drug stores, and every patrolman in the city was ordered to canvass drug stores in his precinct tonight in an effort to trace the purchaser of the chloroform used to suffocate the model. The empty bottle, with the serial number ripped off, is guarded closely as the most valuable clue in the murder mystery.

A third trail which has brought no results, led to a pawn shop and "fences" where the slayer of Miss Keenan is believed to have disposed of her jewels, valued at $10,000. Detectives were working on the fourth angle in the hope that one of them knew her secrets and could shed additional light on the case.

No further witnesses were examined today and members of the Keenan family did not appear at police headquarters for further questioning. It had been expected, it was admitted, that persons who have been thus interrogated have given all information obtainable and the search is being rigorously conducted for new witnesses.

EQUAL RIGHTS BILLS READY FOR GOVERNOR

Albany, April 2.—Three Cottle bills, part of the equal rights for women legislation introduced by Senator Salvatore A. Cottle, were passed by the assembly tonight without debate. Two of the measures are intended to amend the decedent estate law, one so that female heirs are given the same inheritance rights that now are accorded males, while the other raises the age of females eligible to will property from 14 to 18 years.

The third measure is intended to provide that a mother, separated from her husband by a personal agreement rather than a court decree, may start habeas corpus proceedings to regain guardianship of a child detained by the father. The bills have been passed in the senate and now go to the governor for his signature or veto.

PROTEST AGAINST SCHOOLS

New York, April 2.—Asserting that "essentially would be a Jim-Crow institution, rather than an educational institution for all citizens of the state," the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today sent to the New York legislature a protest against enactment of a pending bill designed to establish an agricultural school at Larchburg. The bill, introduced by Senator Charles A. Russell of Brooklyn, provides that the school is to be built on land donated by Assistant District Attorney Frederick H. Lark. The only Negro student at the Kings county board school, who, under the provision of the new law, would be president of the institution for a six year term.

CITY OF VICTORIA APPEARS IN MIDDLE OF ATLANTIC

Boston, April 2.—The British steamer, City of Victoria, is on fire in mid-Atlantic, according to messages from the vessel intercepted here tonight. The position of the steamer was given as 18.54 west longitude and latitude 55.16.

Radio messages intercepted here from ships at sea, said that a British steamer, the name of which was not given, was rushing to the relief of the burning vessel.

The City of Victoria was said to be steaming at full speed toward Azores. She is a vessel of 2,520 tons.

Later messages said that there was a bad fire in the after-hold of the City of Victoria, and that she was making at full speed for San Miguel, Azores.

NEW MASK PROOF AGAINST ALL GAS

Even Carbon Monoxide Gas Included as Among Those Unable to Penetrate Device

(By the Associated Press.)

New Haven, April 2.—Protection of a mask that will give protection against all poison gases including carbon monoxide was announced by Brigadier General Amos A. Fries, chief of the Chemical Warfare Service of the United States army, at the dinner given to the council of the American Chemical society by the New Haven chamber of commerce tonight.

The mask has a particular value for fire fighters and men engaged in fumigating ships or buildings.

General Fries said that 200 of these new masks have been given to the United States public health service for its ship fumigating force.

In research work now being carried on General Fries said, army chemists are striving to obtain a new material which will replace coconut shells for the manufacture of gas masks.

The cotton boll weevil and the worm known under the name of "caterpillar" which attacks and destroys wooden docks, wharves and piers, are receiving much attention from the Chemical Warfare service, he said.

Another study under way is the development of a paint containing a chemical substance which will prevent barnacles from collecting on the bottom of ships.

GOVERNOR SIGNS DAVISON MEASURE

Bill Provides for $1,500,000 for Hospital for Ex-Service Mental Defectives

Albany, April 2.—Governor Smith today, in the presence of State Commander Albert B. Cullen and other officers of the American Legion, signed the Davison bill, providing an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the construction of the Kings Park state hospital for veterans, and the Jeffery bill appropriating funds for the construction of a state road up to the veterans' mounted camp at Upper Tupper lake.

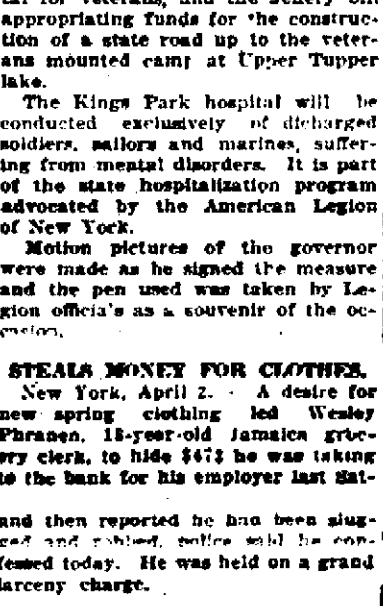

The Kings Park hospital will be conducted exclusively of discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, suffering from mental disorders. It is part of the state hospitalization program advocated by the American Legion of New York.

Motion pictures of the governor were made as he signed the measure and the pen used was taken by Legion officials as a souvenir of the occasion.

WORLD COURT REPUBLICAN PARTY PLANK

Dr. Butler, in Conference With President, Proposes It Can Safely Be Brought Before the People

NOT NEW DOCTRINE

Tradition of Party Since 1901; Delegates to Hague in 1889 Instructed to Propose Such Court

Augusta, Ga., April 2.—The proposal that the United States accept membership in the international court of justice was recommended as an issue of the Republican party can safely take before the country was made by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university and long prominent in Republican councils at a conference here tonight with President Harding.

Dr. Butler played golf with the President today and was a guest of the chief executive tonight at a dinner after which the two discussed from various angles the international court membership proposal as recommended by Mr. Harding in a message to the senate shortly before the adjournment of congress last month.

"As to the world court is excellent," said Dr. Butler in a statement made just before seeing the President. "It is an established Republican doctrine. It has been a tradition of the party since 1900."

"In 1889 we went to the Hague in the hope and expectation of an international world court. Our delegates were instructed by John Hay, then secretary of state, to propose an international court and in a very dramatic way they carried it through. That brought into existence the international court of arbitration, but it was not a real court. Since then the Republican party, through its ablest leaders, has sincerely sought and worked for the establishment of a real court of international justice."

Dr. Butler said he regarded as illogical the argument of the senate "irreconcilables," to the effect that membership in the international court would involve the United States in the League of Nations.

"Our acceptance of the court," he asserted, "is no more going into the League of Nations than it is joining the Holy Roman empire."

The conference between the President and Dr. Butler rounded out a day during which Mr. Harding took full advantage of the ideal golfing weather resulting from moderating temperatures. The chief executive had one of his big days on the links, playing 18 holes in the forenoon and returning after luncheon for another nine. An invitation was extended to the President today by former Judge Landis, supreme arbiter of baseball, to attend an exhibition game here tomorrow between the Detroit Americans, led by Ty Cobb, a local product, and the Toronto club of the International League.

While the President was playing golf, Mrs. Harding remained at the hotel, declining regretfully an invitation to attend a garden party given by members of the Augusta winter colony.

They will pilot the T-2 over a 31-mile triangular course near Dayton.

A. R. C. TO CEASE WORK IN GREECE

June 30th Set as Date for Withdrawal of Relief; Hughes Suggests Cooperation

Washington, April 2.—Secretary Hughes has informed the British, French, Italian and Greek governments in identical notes handed their representatives in Washington, that the American Red Cross will terminate its emergency work in Greece on June 30, next. The note declared that solution of the relief problem in the Near East "can hardly lie in measures of temporary relief alone," and suggested a co-operative agreement between the nations interested which would make it possible for the thousands of refugees "to absorb as promptly as possible into the normal economic life of the country where they find themselves."

In the event the British, French and Italian governments are disposed to concur in a cooperative endeavor, Mr. Hughes said, the Washington government will welcome "an early exchange of views." He said that "a constructive plan" could be agreed upon and the relief task apportioned. American relief agencies will be ready to co-operate, even after the termination of the emergency relief work of the American Red Cross in June.

Red Cross headquarters announced tonight that instructions had been cabled to William N. Haskell, Red Cross commissioner in Greece, in accordance to transfer to local authorities and charities the work now conducted and financed by the Red Cross.

MYSTERIOUS CRAFT OFF BLOCK ISLAND

No Name on Sub Chaser Type Boat; Run Running Reported Off Island Shore

(By the Associated Press.)

Block Island, R. I., April 2.—While fishermen returning from the waters west of this island today told of the continued presence nine miles off shore of the big British steamer Avonmouth, said to carry a cargo of whiskey worth half a million dollars, islanders were surprised by the appearance of a mysterious vessel of substantial size.

The 110 foot craft with name erased from stern and bow slipped into Old Harbor and sent a boat's crew ashore.

Three strangers met the men from the boat, talked with them about a cargo to be taken aboard tonight, it was said, and then disappeared. The men from the boat then returned aboard the converted submarine chaser.

Captain Elijah Sprague, of the coast guard station and his crew later boarded the stranger and found a swarthy crew of seven men, the captain said, apparently foreigners and green to the work of seamen.

Search of the vessel by the coast guardmen as customs agents, developed no signs of liquor or other contraband, Captain Sprague reported.

With reports that a large cargo of whiskey had been landed here under a full moon last night, federal agents sought to run down the cache or the boats that took a part, but without announced success.

The schools were closed at noon and scores of pupils joined in the task of snow removal, which was directed by Mayor E. L. Brown.

Belcher, former pastor of the Five Point Mission of New York city, at Aheram, Columbia county, 24 miles northeast of here. After escaping from the burning building with his son, Charles, 28, Wheeler returned to the second floor for money. SYRACUSE LAD FAILS TO PASS MENTAL TESTS

Sammy Goldman Admitted to United States Two Years Ago on Bond; Gets 60 on Army Selection System

MAY BE DEPORTED

School Progress Planning to Americanization League; Will Carry on Fight to Highest Court for Decision

New York, April 2.—Sammy Goldman, 16-year-old Syracuse school boy, today flunked his third mental test at Ellis Island and his deportation to Rumania will be recommended to Secretary of Labor Davis.

For two years the boy's family has been fighting attempts to bar him on the ground of feeble-mindedness.

He was admitted to this country under bond after he had failed to pass his first examination, and tonight he was permitted to return to Syracuse until Washington officially acted on his case. Relatives hinted that, if deportation orders were issued, an attempt would be made to send him to Canada rather than Rumania.

Today's tests consumed three hours. The boy was accompanied to the island by his father, Isadore; William Schain of New York, a brother-in-law; Dr. Thomas E. Sanford of Syracuse, an expert on a nationally known psychiatrist; and Dr. Mark A. May, also of Syracuse university.

The boy, who had been attending school in Syracuse, appeared in knickerbockers. He had a slight stoop. As described by Dr. May "his voice has a squeak in it, his eyes are dull and his nose unusually large."

Personality Against Him.

"If I could put a bag over his head and let him talk, I believe he would pass the test, but his personality unfortunately is against him," said Dr. May. With his supporters, the boy faced the examining board of psychiatrists who put the questions kindly, but Sammy could not cope with them.

Immigration Commissioner Robert A. Wood, who had appointed a number of certain politicians and attorneys looking to bring pressure to bear in the case of certain immigrants, announced that he would recommend deportation.

The examination over, Sammy went to the lunch room with his brother-in-law and partook of a hearty meal. Now and then he would peek around to see if any man in uniform was present.

From his early fear of soldiers he goes to pieces when confronted with men in uniform, explained Dr. May. "The mere fact that the examining psychiatrists were uniforms would have shaken him."

Dr. May said that at Syracuse the boy had passed with 80 points the army performance test for illiterates. Soldiers were passed at 45.

Will Continue Fight.

Syracuse, April 2.—Decision of a commission of medical experts in session at Ellis Island today, ordering Sammy Goldman, 16-year-old Syracuse school boy, deported to Rumania because of mental deficiency, came as a shock to the little refugee's mother and a surprise to the Americanization league, which, since the lad's arrival two years ago, had followed his progress at school with evident satisfaction.

Attorneys for the family and others interested in the case were prepared for any unfavorable decision and it is their purpose to stay the sentence of deportation until "all court efforts are exhausted. A writ of habeas corpus was understood to be the first step contemplated by Attorney Ralph Skutman, counsel for the family. Thence the case may be carried to the United States supreme court. The family now awaits the action of Secretary of Labor Davis or the medical experts' report.

ACCUSER LOCKED UP WITH ACCUSED

Special Officers Said to Move Boat Bricked to Let Liquor Laden Automobile Pass

Rechester, April 2.—Accuser and accused were locked up in the same jail tonight following the conviction of Lee G. Cassidy, former special deputy sheriff, for bribery, and the arrest of Frank Cardinal, alleged bootlegger of Rechester, on charge of perjury.

The latter charge grew out of testimony given by Cassidy at the trial of Leonard H. Reed, also a former special deputy, who was convicted last fall of complicity in the crime of which Cassidy was found guilty by a jury reporting to County Judge W. C. K. O'Brien at 2:30 o'clock tonight.

Cassidy and Reed were jointly indicted on charges preferred by Cardinal who said he bribed the former officers with $200 and an outfit of clothing Reed while they were patrolling the road near Rechester on the morning of Sept. 29, last. Cassidy admitted, however, that he was not a deputy sheriff, but that he was paid by the officers. He said that he was permitted to patrolling, but he had bribed the officers to let him go.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for oil, not only on the tongue and throat but do the work. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous cathartics do without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

$800 SALARIES IN PALESTINE

Disappointed Over High Pay to British Officials in Impoverished Land.

Jerusalem, Palestine.—The Palestine budget for the coming fiscal year calls for an expenditure of nearly $1,000,000. Comment has been caused by the high salaries paid to British officials and the relatively small amount allotted to education.

Two and one-half million dollars goes for the maintenance of prisons and public security. This, however, is not surprising in view of the large number of Indian troops kept here, whose presence is deemed necessary because of the hatreds engendered by the Balfour declaration.

Less than half a million dollars is appropriated for education, and half of this sum goes to administrative expenses. The country would be in a bad way indeed, from the standpoint of education, were it not for the excellent schools maintained by the Christian missions and the good work done by the Zionist organization in looking after the education of Jewish children.

The head of the department of education draws a salary larger than that of the secretary to the President of the United States, and the salaries of all the British officials are correspondingly large. The British high commissioner is paid $25,000 a year and has in addition an expense allowance of $7,500 annually.

These high salaries have created discontent among the people. In judging the situation it should be remembered that Palestine is a poor country, with an area about equal to the state of Vermont. Until recently all the heads of government departments had their own automobiles, maintained at great expense by the government. But an Arabic newspaper in Jerusalem made such an outcry against this practice that it was speedily abolished.

Genius

The whole difference between a man of genius and other men . . . is that the first remains a child, meeting with the large eyes of children, in perpetual wonder, not conscious of much knowledge—conscious rather of infinite ignorance, and yet infinite power; a fountain of eternal admiration, delight and creative force within him meeting the ocean of visible and governable things around him.—Ruskin, "Stones of Venice."

Waiting the Signal

The bee, with its long, lean body, seems to spring from the ground like a fire. It is a fire with the play of countless tiny fires among its branches. The aim, which is a plume in shape, is flushed in its highest branches with the first tide of blossom. Everywhere the spring seems like a runner stooping in readiness for the signal to start.—Robert Lynd.

The first complete English Bible did not appear until 1534, when a translation was made by Miles Coverdale and printed in F. Westland, probably Zurich, by Martin Frobenberger. This was not a translation from the original Hebrew and Greek texts, but from other translations. Nevertheless, it is regarded as a scholarly effort. No perfect copy is known to exist.

Domestic Happiness Everything. Domestic happiness is the end of almost all our pursuits, and the common reward of all our pains. When men find themselves forever barred from this delightful fruition, they are lost to all industry, and grow careless of all their worldly affairs. Thus they become bad subjects, bad relations, bad friends and bad men.—Fielding.

SPELL NO LOSS

Weather, Pests and Diseases Mark United States Production.

AVERAGES 4 MILLION A YEAR

Increased production aggregated a total average value of $4,339,000,000 yearly in 11 of the country's important crops during the 12 years, 1909 to 1921, the Department of Agriculture estimates. Weather, plant diseases, defective seed and insect and animal pests account for this prevented production.

The corn crop is the chief sufferer, its annual average prevented production being 1,365,579,000 bushels, which at the average December 1 farm price makes its value $1,258,282,000. Next in order is the cotton crop, whose prevented production averaged 8,418,000 bales, valued at $682,565,000, including seed.

Wheat follows with an annual average damage of 44,762,000 bushels valued at $399,872,000.

The average prevented production and value of other crops are estimated as follows:

Oats, 590,493,000 bushels and value $280,277,000; barley, 108,083,000 bushels, valued at $51,318,000; flaxseed, 11,777,000 bushels, valued at $28,484,000; rice, 11,267,000 bushels, valued at $14,919,000; potatoes, 219,921,000 bushels, valued at $301,848,000; apples, 103,456,000 bushels, valued at $186,946,000; hay, 34,025,000 tons, valued at $376,491,000, and tobacco, 456,729,000 pounds, valued at $80,774,000.

Apple crop suffers. The absolute quantity of crop production prevented by the many and universal causes do not indicate the relative severity of the damage to the potential crop. From this point of view the one of these 11 crops that suffers the greatest relative damage is the apple crop, with a yearly damage that averages 67.4 per cent of a potential crop. That is to say, only about one-half of the potential crop of apples, on the average, is actually produced.

The potential flaxseed crop is damaged, on the average, to the extent of 46 per cent, or nearly as much as the apple crop, and the potential cotton crop 40.6 per cent, although in 1921, the damage was as high as 57.4 per cent. In relative damage as well as actual the rice crop is at the bottom of the list with 25.8 per cent, or only one-quarter of the potential production.

Flaxseed leads all of these crops in future uncertainty of production, with a range between high and low damage to the potential crop as great as 70 per cent.

In order of uncertainty come apples with a range of 55.7 per cent, cotton with a range of 30.5 per cent, barley with 30.1 per cent, hay with 22.5 per cent, oats with 21.1 per cent, corn with 21 per cent, potatoes with 19.2 per cent, wheat and rice each with 17.3 per cent, and tobacco far below with 9.8 per cent. As measures of the uncertainty of the future crop, a range of damage equaling 41.8 per cent of a potential production goes with the flaxseed crop at the highest extreme and 9.8 per cent with the tobacco crop at the lowest. These are ranges for United States averages. Ranges are greater in state averages and in individual farm experience.

Reduction of Acreage. "If farmers could harvest a potential production," says the Department of Agriculture, "they could greatly reduce the acreage now devoted to these eleven crops. The greatest reduction would be one-half for flaxseed, apples and cotton, taking the average of the last two years for cotton. The reduction would be one-third for corn, wheat, oats, barley, potatoes and tobacco, and for two crops—rice and hay—the reduction would be one-quarter.

"One the potential production been realized on the actual acreage, crops, prices would have been smashed. However, it will not do any that the farmer has lost an amount equivalent to the value of prevented production based on price of the harvest production. The fact is that the cost of the efforts to produce that portion of the potential crop which failed is a part of the cost of producing that portion of the crop which succeeded, and the economic necessity is that the farmer shall receive the equivalent of this abortive cost in the price of the crop actually produced."

Next Time Up. "Will you marry me?" he asked. "This is a good idea," assented Pippie, "and do you love me enough to wait a few days?" "Of course, I do," declared Reggie, "but why wait?" "Well, because," replied Pippie, "I am married at present."

True Gratitude. To be popular at home is a great achievement. The man who is loved by the cat, by the dog, by his neighbors' children and by his own wife is a great man, even if he has never been mentioned outside of the circle of those who love him.

Was Once Black to the Birds. Birds help keep down many insect pests even when they are not sufficiently numerous to exterminate them over a large area of infestation, and there are many instances where the saving of a crop appears to be entirely the work of birds.

Starting on the Pavement. An authority on the foot situation declares that we must "start to slip out by burning oil, gas, electricity and what not." We are not mentioned the what not. Mary, bend to the at.—Boston Evening Transcript.

A Business Man's
Advice to You

New York, N. Y.—"My business obliges me to go out in all sorts of weather and my health became broken down entirely. Home remedies and doctors did not help me—I tried everything. My joints were sore, stiff and painful, I had difficulty in going up and down stairs, was constipated, and had stomach trouble. Although I was opposed to patent medicine, I was willing to take anything. I read of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets, and purchased some. Within a few days I felt like a new man, felt like a 'two year old,' and still feel so. The Anuric Tablets certainly dig down deep to the very root of one's ailments and they act very gently and effectively. There seems to be strength in every tablet."—C. Robinson, 59 W. 62d St.

Don't wait for serious kidney ailment to set in. Help your weakened kidneys with Dr. Pierce's Anuric. At all drug stores or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

EX-CONVICT REGAINS RESPECT

Bigamist Returns to Work in Village Where He Was Sentenced to Prison.

New York.—Alexander Dujat of Corona, former county clerk of Queens county, who served time in Sing Sing for bigamy, has assumed his duties as harbor master at the state barge canal terminal, Long Island City, at a salary of $1,800 a year.

When Dujat was released from Sing Sing on August 23, 1919, he expressed confidence in his ability to regain the esteem of those who had known him as the village blacksmith for 30 years before he became county clerk. It was on the eve of his expected reinstallation for that office that he was indicted and convicted on a charge of having married Miss Edna Marie Young of Corona, while he had another wife, Mrs. Matilda Vernice Clifford Dujat, in Brooklyn.

SCHENECTUS GRASS FIRE

Smoke from grass on vacant lot caused fire on vacant lot

 was most unpleasant for residents in ten acres is owned by Mrs. Ida L.

Cookin' Summer Boarding House Nar-

Sidney Center, April 1. — Last Thursday afternoon at about five o'clock,

fire was discovered in the summer

boarding house owned by the Misses

Hill and Kate Conklin on upper Main street. The fire alarm was rung and the members of the fire department responded very promptly and with the assistance of a large number of vol-

under control, although the fire had already gained considerable headway

when discovered by John Conklin,

who lives in the next house.

There was no one in the house when the fire started. George Conklin, a brother of the owners and the care-definitely known. It was confined to

OF A NUMBER OF THINGS

Judge Buckley of the Binghamton city court is convinced that the demands, fines and suspended sentences will not stop the dangerous practice of city motorists in driving around street cars which have stopped
 to discharge or receive passengers.
 Accordingly, he announces that from this time on, such violations will not be punished by fines, but by suspended sentences. The course of Judge Buckley, should it be followed more generally elsewhere, will meet with public approval.

Birds, while in general largely possessed of the migratory instinct, are strangely lacking in the protective
 one. For example, year after year and at about the same time, robins and other songsters arrive in the section selected for their summer habitat, and this with little consideration
 as to whether the weather is warm
 as is often true, or of zero coldness
 as it has been in the past week. Under such circumstances there is lack of available food, particularly in days when the frozen earth is covered with snow, and it would be well for those who cherish the birds and their song to furnish a little food for their tenants. The last few days have to a degree mitigated the anxiety, but there is chance for more snow. If that case the liberal hand, scattering seeds and grain generously, will do a world of good.

Appropriation of the passage of the Farm Credit bill in congress the Rural New Yorker sounds a note of warning when it advises farmers to stop borrowing
 to raise loans. To increase production largely on borrowed capital, it asserts, will be followed by lower prices and less ability to pay their interest or principal. "They would,"
 it says, "be better off to stop borrowing, readjust their business, raise less,
 concentrate on fewer acres and wait
 until farm business settled down."
 Appropriation of the same question, a Delaware county farmer recently expressed a like opinion: "It is easier to borrow than it is to pay, and legislation which makes it easy to borrow money
 is a damage rather than a benefit."
 As a general proposition the "Farm Credit" bill appears to be chiefly for the benefit of the lender.

It would be interesting to know whether anybody really thinks that John Barleycorn is coming back.
 There is, of course, a great deal of talk about it, and it is unfortunate,
 but to some extent true, that the talk comes mostly from the two extremes of the social scale; but the real decision in the matter will come from the great middle class, to which most of us are proud to belong. It is this class which long ago realized the danger of indulgence in alcoholic spirits, which first in one state and then in others voted for prohibition, and which in the end drew into line the large number of states necessary in order to make it nationwide. These people have according to any extent changed their opinions;
 and if the matter really comes to a vote, it would be necessary for the Eightteenth amendment to be repealed, there will be some surprise to those who have mistaken more noise for well considered public sentiment.

The United States and sundry countries of Europe have for the past few years been exchanging university instructors, in order that each might be able to learn what is best in the system of the other. The women of England, or at least some of the more thoughtful of them, have devised a better plan, in that it comes closer to the public needs. This summer they will send at least one elementary teacher to the United States and large numbers afterwards when the plan is fully organized. These teachers will attend sessions of the primary and intermediate schools and in general get an insight into the system under which basic instruction in our schools is given.

Borden May Locate in Sidney.

Division Superintendent Gray of the Borden Farm Products company was in the village today looking over the possibilities of his company establishing a milk station at this place. The Borden are ever on the lookout for desirable places at which to establish a feeder to their immense retail business in New York city. This visit of Mr. Gray was just to find out about how many dairy cows there are in this vicinity which would be a permanent source of supply for a station should his company decide to erect one at Sidney. (Sidney Enterprise.)

State Water Gives Onondaga Power.

It takes the three writers to award
 a scientific distinction to the city of Onondaga. In this town, according to the authors of "Some Notes on the Onondaga Power" produced at the Onondaga Power plant, lived one Dr.
 J. H. Thompson, who discovered what he called "the Onondaga" that would be the first of the Onondaga power.
 It is the first of the Onondaga power,
 and it is the first of the Onondaga power.
 It is the first of the Onondaga power,
 and it is the first of the Onondaga power.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

The Spread of Motor Vehicles.

The increase in the number of motor vehicles registered, which was particularly marked from 1917 to 1921
 was even greater last year than in the five years previous. In the twelve months of 1922 a million and a quarter motor vehicles were added to the ten million and a half already in service.
 More than twelve million passenger cars, taxicabs, motor trucks,
 trailers and motorcycles in the land,
 and in spite of those who pretend
 each year to discover the saturation point of the automotive industry, we may be certain that the end is not yet.
 —(New York Herald.)

Consideration for Present Types.

At the highway conference held in Harrisburg the preponderance of sentiment appeared to be to the effect that the ideal type of road for this latitude has not been found. It may be fully as true that we have not found the proper way to use what we have. There are various types of construction. Some are capable of bearing much heavier traffic than others.
 In practice, however, not much distinction is made. — (Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)

Now for Reorganization.

With the liquor bill out of the way
 the legislature will be expected to tackle the next job on the governor's program—reorganization of the state government. This measure provides in the main, for the elimination of certain bureaus and commissions and the consolidation of others, all with a view to greater efficiency and economy. — (Wilkes Barre Record.)

Vacation Under Difficulties.

No sooner has President Harding left the safe retreat of the White house than he is besieged by members of congress and by political pilgrims from all directions with claims upon his attention. His Florida trip as a time of rest and recuperation threatens to go the way of the vacations of some of his predecessors. Almost all of them have felt the need for a period of complete relaxation and of relief from the pressing cares and responsibility of the great office, and they have tried with varying success
 many methods of securing it. — (New York Sun.)

Temple of Cooking.

Broadway isn't what is used to be.
 From the tent the manager of Shan-ley's spoke when the receivers paddock was snapped on the door of this Broadway restaurant, the last of a group associated in the public mind for more than thirty years with the gaiety and glitter and gastronomy of this street at its best.

Receivers, Churchill's, Shanley's—
 they are all gone now. Broadway is more dazzling now than it was when these restaurants had their heyday.
 The movement and glare of electric signs dominates the street today. The gaiety is there—in half a hundred places, theatres, hotels, "clubs" cabarets, dancing places. But some of those who knew the Broadway of 1899 and of 1919 ask, what of the terrapin and the lobster and ruddy duck
 that used to adorn its tables?
 Dinners are served, chefs are hired, menus are patterned, but the tribe of gourmands has departed, and the numbers. The table has become the side show, the incidental; song and dance usurp first place.

Palates or no palates the public seems little concerned over the decline in the art of dining well. Good food, and the ceremonial of its service, are incidental to the pleasure seekers of today. Dance music and a small cleared space and entertainers brought from the legitimate and vaudeville stages are what they demand first; food is no longer one of the subtleties of entertainment. — (New York Sun.)

COOL FOOD DURING SUMMER

Advance of Spring Cools Care in Choice and Handling of Refrigerators.
 —Don't Cover Ice.

In the spring the housewife's thoughts turn to the problem of keeping the food cool. While it may be true that keeping the food in the cellar works fairly well when there is a dumb-water running down from the kitchen, Cornell housewife says that only the refrigerator will give her real satisfaction.

They suggest, as points to watch for
 in choosing a refrigerator, the following: circulation of air currents is essential;
 a low temperature can be maintained,
 and this means well-insulated walls with tight joints. The lining must be smooth, easily cleaned, and non-absorbent. The number in the family and their needs should be considered in determining its size.

The refrigerator should stand in a light well-ventilated place; weather conditions should not affect the temperature inside the icebox, and this means that the door should never be left ajar.

Don't Cover the Ice.

If the ice chamber is always kept full of ice, the air will be cooled all the time and the ice will melt less rapidly.
 The ice should not be covered with paper or a blanket, as this prevents good circulation of air currents and raises the temperature of the refrigerator. The dining in ice is best in refrigeration. Warm food put in the refrigerator will raise the temperature.

The coldest part of the refrigerator is the first compartment to which the ice passes after being cooled on the top. Usually the one just below the icebox. The milk and butter should be kept in this compartment. The ice compartment should never be used for food as it is likely to absorb odors,
 and the temperature is not so low there
 as in the next compartment.

Condition of Eastern Highway.

Senator E. L. Tamm made a trip to Pennsylvania yesterday after a brief stay in New York. Several large snow drifts were encountered, one just west of Gettysburg being higher than the land. Although there were many bad drifts, the trip was made safely.

 Hudson Navigation line began com-

Embargo Near End.

Because the coal situation has improved, railroad officials announced throughout the eastern section that it will not be long before embargoes on freight will be lifted on all roads. According to New York officials the crisis has passed and the point reached where distribution is described as nearly normal. The New York Ontario and Western Canada railway shipments show an increase for February over a corresponding period
 in 1921 of 27.5 per cent.

JEALOUSY OF THE BEE

Judge in Famous Case of J. B. Mer-win of Prattville Against New York City Thought Such Characteristics
 Confined to Female of Our Species.

Kingston, April 2.—The Scholastic commission, consisting of Senator Kelley of New York city, Claude B. May-ham of Scholastic and Patrick J. Shee-of Troy, has finished the hearing of the case of John B. Merwin, well-known bee keeper of Prattville, against the city of New York for the loss sustained by him because of blasting by the New York board of water supply in making excavations to ascertain the whereabouts of the bed
 rock for construction of the Shandken tunnel.

At the hearing the testimony was confined largely to the introduction of foreign queen bees into Catekill mountain hives. Mr. McWilliam, a witness, who began the keeping of bees and the making of honey in the Catekill mountains 25 years ago, described the method.
 He said the Italian queen bees largely were raised at the great apiries at Kemer, Alabama and Jellico, Tennessee, and were distributed all over the United States.

The method of distribution was to place a queen in a small wooden cage with a wire cloth top. At the end of the cage was placed a piece of pure sugar candy, an inch cube. Also at the end was a circular opening about the size of a large tea pencil. The queen bees were shipped by express or parcel post from Alabama to Tennessee to the point where they were to be introduced into queenless colonies.

Only Females Carried.

On their arrival the seal covering the circular opening was broken and the cage containing the new queen was placed on top or below in the brood frames in a new hive directly over the cluster of the bees in such a way that the bees of the colony could have access to the wire covering, and thus become acquainted with the queen in the cage. If they accepted her, they would gnaw their way through the candy cube, liberate her and adopt her as a queen. If, however, they rejected her, they would endeavor

 in every way to reach and kill her.
 Therefore beekeepers were impelled to keep a close watch upon the new arrival in order to determine whether she was acceptable or not. Frequently she was rejected, and in such case it was essential to remove her and replace her with another. McWilliam said that the drones in the hive never objected to the introduction of a new queen, the only objections raised were by the female workers.

"Do I understand," asked Judge
 Clearwater, the counsel for Merwin,
 "that feminine resentment to the introduction of a new and beautiful looking female extends to bee? Somehow or other I had the impression that was a trait confined to humanity."

"No," said the witness, "it is almost as active among bees as among women."

LOCAL NEWS

—Anthony J. Scott yesterday took possession of the property which he recently purchased at 184 Main street.

—While no opposition is anticipated, residents of the city are reminded that the common council conducts a hearing this evening at 8 o'clock upon the amendments to the city charter recently passed at Albany which await approval locally and later the signature of the governor. They are designed to permit the purchase by the city of the plant of the Oneonta Water Works company.

—It may not be amiss to suggest to householders that as soon as they are confident that they will not be required to use any more soft coal or substitutes of any kind that they have their furnaces and heating plants, including chimneys, thoroughly cleaned. While this should be done each spring as soon as the first go of it is especially important this year, an experienced heating plant man advises.

STAR OUTFIELDER SIGNED

Herbert With Tannersville Last Season, Will Cover Center Garden on 1923 Oneonta Giant Team.

With a baseball sun shining yesterday, scores of Oneonta baseball fans turned their minds to thoughts of the national pastime in general and of the Oneonta Giants in particular. As a result the enthusiasts who are rounding up memberships for the Athletic Association, that a fast nine may be assembled again this summer, found it an easy task to swell the rolls of the association with as many names as they made calls. When the initial report is tabulated on the membership canvass, which each worker is requested to make today at C. R. McCarthy's clothing store, it is anticipated that a big stride toward the necessary goal will be shown.

As a bit of news to the fans, Manager Bridwell has announced through President F. H. Marx that Kelly Herbert is the latest player whose contract has been received. This stocky fielder will be remembered for the wonderful showing he made in the center garden for Tannersville in the game against the Giants on the New York pastime last September. He made two of the four hits that the eastern mountaineers garnered off Williams, one of them bringing in Tannersville's lone run, and had a busy day in the field with seven outs and one assist.

After Al had seen Herbert in action that day, he talked with the center fielder about this year's team, with the result that the lad named Kelly will guard the Neahwa timberlot this summer. Charles Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox found Herbert in the latter's hometown in Florida two seasons ago and he was signed up by the Sox, being farmed later in the 1921 season to the Reading International League club. He was first string catcher for Reading until his jaw connected with the bat of Bob Fothergill at Rochester, which as-hered. Before the season closed, however, he was recalled by Chicago and then went to Daytona, Florida, where he played in the outfield. In 1922 Herbert played for the Albany club, but again the jinx crossed his path, this time in the form of his appendix. After his operation and recovery, Herbert took a rest cure on doctor's orders and secured his release from Manager Hawkins of the Albany club. The last of the season he played in the field for Tannersville. Herbert stands five feet, eight inches, weighs 175 pounds, throws right and bats left, and has a lot of fielding tricks original with him which Oneonta fans who saw him play with Tannersville last fall will look forward to see repeated when he lines up as one of Al Bridwell's gallant Giants, and not the least of them either.

VALUABLE REALTY OFFERING

Some 25 Building Lots on the Tanager Plant Near the Center of Oneonta and Spruce Streets Offered for a Limited Time at $200 Each.

In the recently acquired plot of land known as the Tanager property in the vicinity of the corner of Main and Spruce streets upon which real estate men have had their covetous eyes for a score of years and more, Ceperley & Morgan, the new owners, have laid out some 25 building lots which all recognize as among the best remaining unoccupied within the city limits. An allotted 600 acres on the north is widened to a 30-foot street, ten feet having been released from this particular plot for that purpose. Union street has been extended from its present junction with Olla Avenue across the plot to Spruce street, making a 400 foot street. This street will be graded at once by the owners and as soon as there is need, water and gas mains will be added.

In addition to the purchase of lands from the two daughters of Mr. Tanager, Ceperley & Morgan have bought a strip of land east of the Tanager plot and about 100 feet wide, which enables the development firm to cut up the plot to a good advantage.

There are six lots on the easterly side of East street and a like number on the westerly side of Union street, all of which are 50 by 113 feet. There are also six on the easterly side of Union street backing to the park which are 50 by 114 feet. The other five lots face on Spruce street and have 500 foot frontage and 85 feet deep. All have excellent drainage and good soil and the location is in the heart of the city.

In order to move the lots promptly, Ceperley & Morgan are in this issue offering a special advanced sale at a $200 reduction from the fixed price for a limited time. This is an opportunity that those who are contemplating erecting a home—which conditions indicate to be a wise move—cannot afford to overlook. As a special inducement to buy early today, the firm announces a further reduction of $50 to the first purchaser today.

Mr. Ceperley is authority for the statement that prices originally fixed for these attractive lots was "based upon a desire to move them promptly in order to give buyers the benefit of saving the cost of long carrying and that at the price at which they are offered during this special sale, they are actual bargains.

C. C. MILLER TAKES PARTNERS

Harrison L. Styles and William R. Hamilton Now Associated with the Mayor Under New Firm Name of C. C. Miller & Co.—Will Expand Business.

The heating, lighting and plumbing business established in 1904 by Mayor Clarence C. Miller, will hereafter be conducted under the firm name of C. C. Miller & Co., he having taken as associates in the business Harrison L. Styles and William R. Hamilton. The intention of the firm is to enlarge the business and to take advantage of the business opportunities presented by the addition of other lines associated naturally with the heating and plumbing business. Paints and oils will be included in the stock at once, of which a large and complete assortment will soon be found upon the shelves of the company.

Mayor Miller has been successful in building up a large business in the 17 years since it was founded, he having been alone with the exception of five years when Chauncey W. Herrick was associated with him. He comparatively recently completed a new building admirably suited to its needs at 237 Main street and he has found this location favorably situated for a retail store. The building affords ample room for expansion. He will be in charge of the estimating of electric work in the city and other details in connection with that branch of the business.

MAPLE STREET IMPROVEMENT

Steps Taken for Prompt Paving of Section of Maple Street From White Street to Spruce Street. The City Engineer is now negotiating with the trolley company.

Preliminary steps for the paving of that section of Maple street from which the trolley tracks are soon to be removed were taken at the meeting of the board of public works held last evening. City Engineer Gurney being instructed to open negotiations at once with the trolley company.

In accordance with an agreement entered into by the city and the trolley company the latter is to construct the tracks and the city promptly this spring and is to destroy all the costs of the pavement with the exception of the asphalt required and the engineering. The company, it is believed, expected to provide the stone from the crusher near Henderson, but as the crusher is not now in operation the stone will probably be secured elsewhere.

Engineer Gurney is planning to get this task out of the way early this summer and hopes to have the street completed before the Memorial commencement period in June. The total cost, borne by the company, will be about $2,000.

G. Irving Reynolds appeared before the board and requested that the westerly side of Chestnut street, between Main and Market streets, be given some attention. He suggested that a retaining wall and walk be needed. The board will visit the street and personal investigation will be made by members before any action is taken.

A petition for the paving of Liberty street south of Fair street, said to be signed by all property owners with the exception of two, was presented and accepted and filed. Engineer Gurney was instructed to confer with the property owners thereon, informing them that the board had under advisement removing some of the mud and dirt from that street to the depth of six inches and filling in same with broken brick taken from Main street when the latter is repaved and then covering the brick with gravel. This when oiled and graded, it is believed, will make a good wearing surface and be a less expensive and satisfactory improvement. Mr. Gurney will ascertain the views of property owners upon this suggestion and report to the commission.

Commissioner Paine reported that he had interviewed Supervisor Taber of the town of Oneonta relative to an examination and probable repainting and repairing, it found needed, of the bridges over the Susquehanna river at Main street and Bridge avenue, which the city and town jointly maintain.

Mr. Taber says that the town has been advised that there is pending at Albany, with fair prospects of being enacted, a measure providing that the state take over the maintenance of all bridges in villages and third class cities which are on trunk lines of state highways. If this is done the Main street bridge will come under state supervision. Mr. Taber further suggested that the Bridge avenue bridge is not in need of attention at present. The subject will be kept in mind awaiting developments.

Engineer Gurney reported that he had been requested to release ten feet of the street from the city and to contract in charge of the erection of the parish house for St. James' church. The matter was left in the hands of Mr. Gurney to make arrangements if possible to give up the parkway and the sidewalk and retain the full width street if possible. Provision will be made to permit the contractor to go ahead with construction without serious trouble.

NO ACTION IN LIQUOR CASE.

Anthony Molinari Summoned to Appear in Court, Not Arrested.

No action was taken in the case of Anthony Molinari, whose cafe on South Main street was raided by local officers and state troopers Saturday night, when the matter came up in city court yesterday morning. Whether or not Molinari will be indicted for illegal possession of liquor depends upon the action of Justice Kellogg on April 4, when the search warrant under the authority of which the raid was conducted is returnable. Molinari was not arrested Saturday night, as was stated in The Star of yesterday. He was simply summoned to appear in court yesterday morning; the authorities desiring to be sure that an indictment could be obtained before making an arrest. Molinari is being represented by Attorney Claude V. Smith.

Taken to Fox Memorial Hospital.

Schenectady, April 2. — Elmer Roberts, 40 years old, who died last Sunday afternoon when he slipped and fell on the wet concrete floor of the Gordon plant here, where he was employed. He had finished his work at 4 o'clock and had gone back to the plant after a bottle of milk. In falling Mr. Roberts caught his hand under him, wrenching and tearing the ligaments and muscles. He was taken to Worcester where Dr. Nichols dressed the hand and advised that the injured man be taken to a hospital. Accordingly he was conveyed to the Fox Memorial hospital in Oneonta.
